Mexico

VTest is recognized by the U.S. Embassy in Mexico as an accepted English language qualification for two highly prestigious U.S.-government-sponsored programs: National Youth Science Camp (NYSCamp) and the Study of the U.S. Institutes (SUSI).

NYSCamp is a world-renowned science education program that brings together outstanding high school graduates from across the Americas. Participants attend world-class lectures, hands-on scientific activities, and seminars led by distinguished STEM professionals, while also exploring topics in science, art, and music and building strong international networks.

The Study of U.S. Institutes (SUSI) are five- to six-week academic programs focused on key topics in U.S. studies for groups of foreign undergraduates, scholars, and teachers. Hosted by universities and colleges across the United States, the Institutes combine an intensive academic residency with an academic field experience in another U.S. region. Participants also engage with American peers, take part in community service activities, and develop leadership skills.

Recognition of VTest for both NYSCamp and SUSI underscores its reliability and credibility as an English proficiency assessment for highly selective international academic and exchange programs.

This national recognition positions the VTest Business English - 4 Skills as a key reference for professionals, training centers, job seekers, and candidates looking to enhance their business English skills.

With a network of over 160 accredited test centers across France, VTest ensures broad national coverage and accessibility, reinforcing its role as a major player in the landscape of professional English certification.

Germany

Macromedia University of Applied Sciences (Germany)

Macromedia University partnered with Burlington VTest to modernize language testing for international applicants. Together, we created a fully digital admissions testing system with over 20 custom assessments aligned to the university's academic standards, offered in both German and English. The solution combines automated scoring, secure external grading for open-ended tasks, and robust online proctoring to ensure fairness and exam integrity. Macromedia also adopted Burlington VTest General English as a CEFR-aligned, cost-effective option for verifying English proficiency. This partnership has strengthened the university's admissions process by improving accuracy, efficiency, and accessibility for international students.
